CONSIDER THIS

This is my Quarterly report to the Church Board, which I thought might interest the rest of the Congregation.

It is no secret that the first half of this year, and some of last year has been filled with interviews with doctors and other health professionals. Through these difficult health issues, I appreciate the continued prayers, support and encouragement that the Church has supplied for me. We have been able to continue to conduct services and ministries in the Church and in the community, even though we are still somewhat impaired. We have been looking forward to feeling much better by Spring, and Spring is here! We have kept on reaching out to the community in various ways, and are looking for other outreach opportunities, as time and energy permit. It is our hope to involve more of the membership in outreach, as well. I am hoping that as I slow down, the Church will increase as more and more members take up the slack. What I can no longer do, we can all do together, and even more, as we depend on the Lord's strength. It is my desire to fight the fight, finish the course, and keep the faith, right here in White Creek, if the Lord allows.

The times in which we live are presenting many challenges to our faith and way of life. It has become obvious that much of society has become more liberal in their view of Biblical truth and morality. Ideas of honesty and integrity have slipped at an alarming rate in our society. This, alone, presents new challenges for a Church that wants to continue to believe that the Bible is God's Word, and that what it teaches is relative to our world today. We, as White Creek Church, must reaffirm our commitment to the Word of God, and our determination to continue to preach and teach its values to a world that is growing more hostile day by day.

I look forward, in the days ahead, to continuing the ministry that has been "ours" for over 150 years, by reaching more and more into our backyard, seeking out those closest to us who need to know Jesus. I would like to rally the believers of our area to work together toward revival, renewal, and a closer walk with the Lord. We have all been called to join in this quest to share the Gospel of Jesus Christ with every creature. Are you ready?

We thank you for your love and support, and look forward to greater things in the years ahead. God bless you all.

Pastor Sam

PRAYER LIST

Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. (1 Thessalonians 5:16-18)
