CONSIDER THIS

It is more important than ever that we Christians live our lives as reflections of the life of Jesus Christ living in us. Our world is desperately broken and unredeemable by human means or ingenuity. We are way beyond the tipping point that leads to destruction, and many have become so jaded by corruption that they have given up on change, or have joined in on the great rebellion against the very Creator of life and order.

Much of humanity lives in ignorance of the standards of ethics and civility which have historically stood for thousands of years. We argue among ourselves about morality, right and wrong, and good and evil, ignoring the fact that the Creator and Father has given instructions on how we are to conduct ourselves, not just in our personal lives, but as people designed to live in concert with others in orderly society.

It is not only the Constitution of the United States of America which sets out the framework of an ordered, civilized, form of government, but our Father has given us the Bible, to guide our everyday lives on this planet we live on, but He has also given us instructions which will guarantee our preparation for Eternal Life with Him when this earthly life is over. This grand adventure of learning and following God's instructions will prepare us for the unimaginable existence He has planned for us in the eons to come.

From that first week of Creation, when God instructed Adam to obey one simple command, God's purpose was that mankind would live in concert with the All-wise Father, Who would guide, direct, protect and love man, and provide his every need. It is obvious today, that mankind failed the obedience test, and evil was added to evil in every succeeding generation. Over the centuries, law upon law has been added to that original one, spelling out the specifics of noncompliance to that first simple trespass.

Romans 5:12 Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned:

Romans 6:23 For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

We are bound, before God, to live under the moral and ethical constraints of the laws of God, whether we recognize it or not. The laws of our country were largely based on the handed-down laws of Moses, and reflect the teachings of Jesus in many respects. It is time to re-capture the integrity and the characteristics of these laws and apply them to our lives. That would convey the message to our fellow citizens that character and deportment before God and mankind is still important, not out-of-date and long-forgotten.
