CONSIDER THIS

The reality of the Spiritual realm is not questioned except by the most hardened humanists. Even those who deny the existence of God recognize the existence of something supernatural or extraterrestrial, which is unexplainable by natural scientific means. Even the Pharisees of Jesus day were aware of a power beyond the normal functions of the human frame, John 3:2. When we read the Bible, we see a combination of natural and supernatural influences at work in the affairs of men.

For millennia, mankind has tried to figure out and exploit these activities, from building a Tower of Babel, to modern-day charlatans who try to emulate the power of God, while bypassing the boundaries which God has designated. Today there are still people who would use supernatural for their own gain, thumbing their noses at the God who has created them.

For this reason, many sincere Christians have stepped away from the very appearance of abuse, and have failed to utilize the gifts which God has fitted them with. We have shied away from implementing the spiritual life that sets us apart from the world, and gives us power to live a godly, spiritual life. Esau, son of Isaac, sold his birthright for a bowl of soup. Will we give up our birthright because someone else has abused theirs? (Genesis 25:31-34)
